

Hello NSAMRT Members,

To date we have not received any applicants for the Executive Council Bursary so application deadline has been extended to April 15th. Questions and applications can be sent to info@nsamrt.ca .

This award was established to offer financial assistance for Medical Radiation Technologists to attend the NSAMRT Annual General Conference. This year the conference is being held in Yarmouth Nova Scotia at the Rodd Resort on June 2-3rd. There are two bursaries available in the amount of $150 each.

The competition is open to NSAMRT members currently employed in the field of medical radiation technology except those members receiving funding from their employer to attend. Applicants must submit a short letter to the Executive stating why attendance at the Annual General Conference is important. The application must also include the applicant's name, address, discipline, number of years in the profession and employer.
